Dear Graduates,

As you head out into a different world, remember this as a year when the students of Vanceave High School and Vancleave Middle School have faced many challenges and have realized many dreams.

Turn these pages of time to see, You make a world of difference. . .

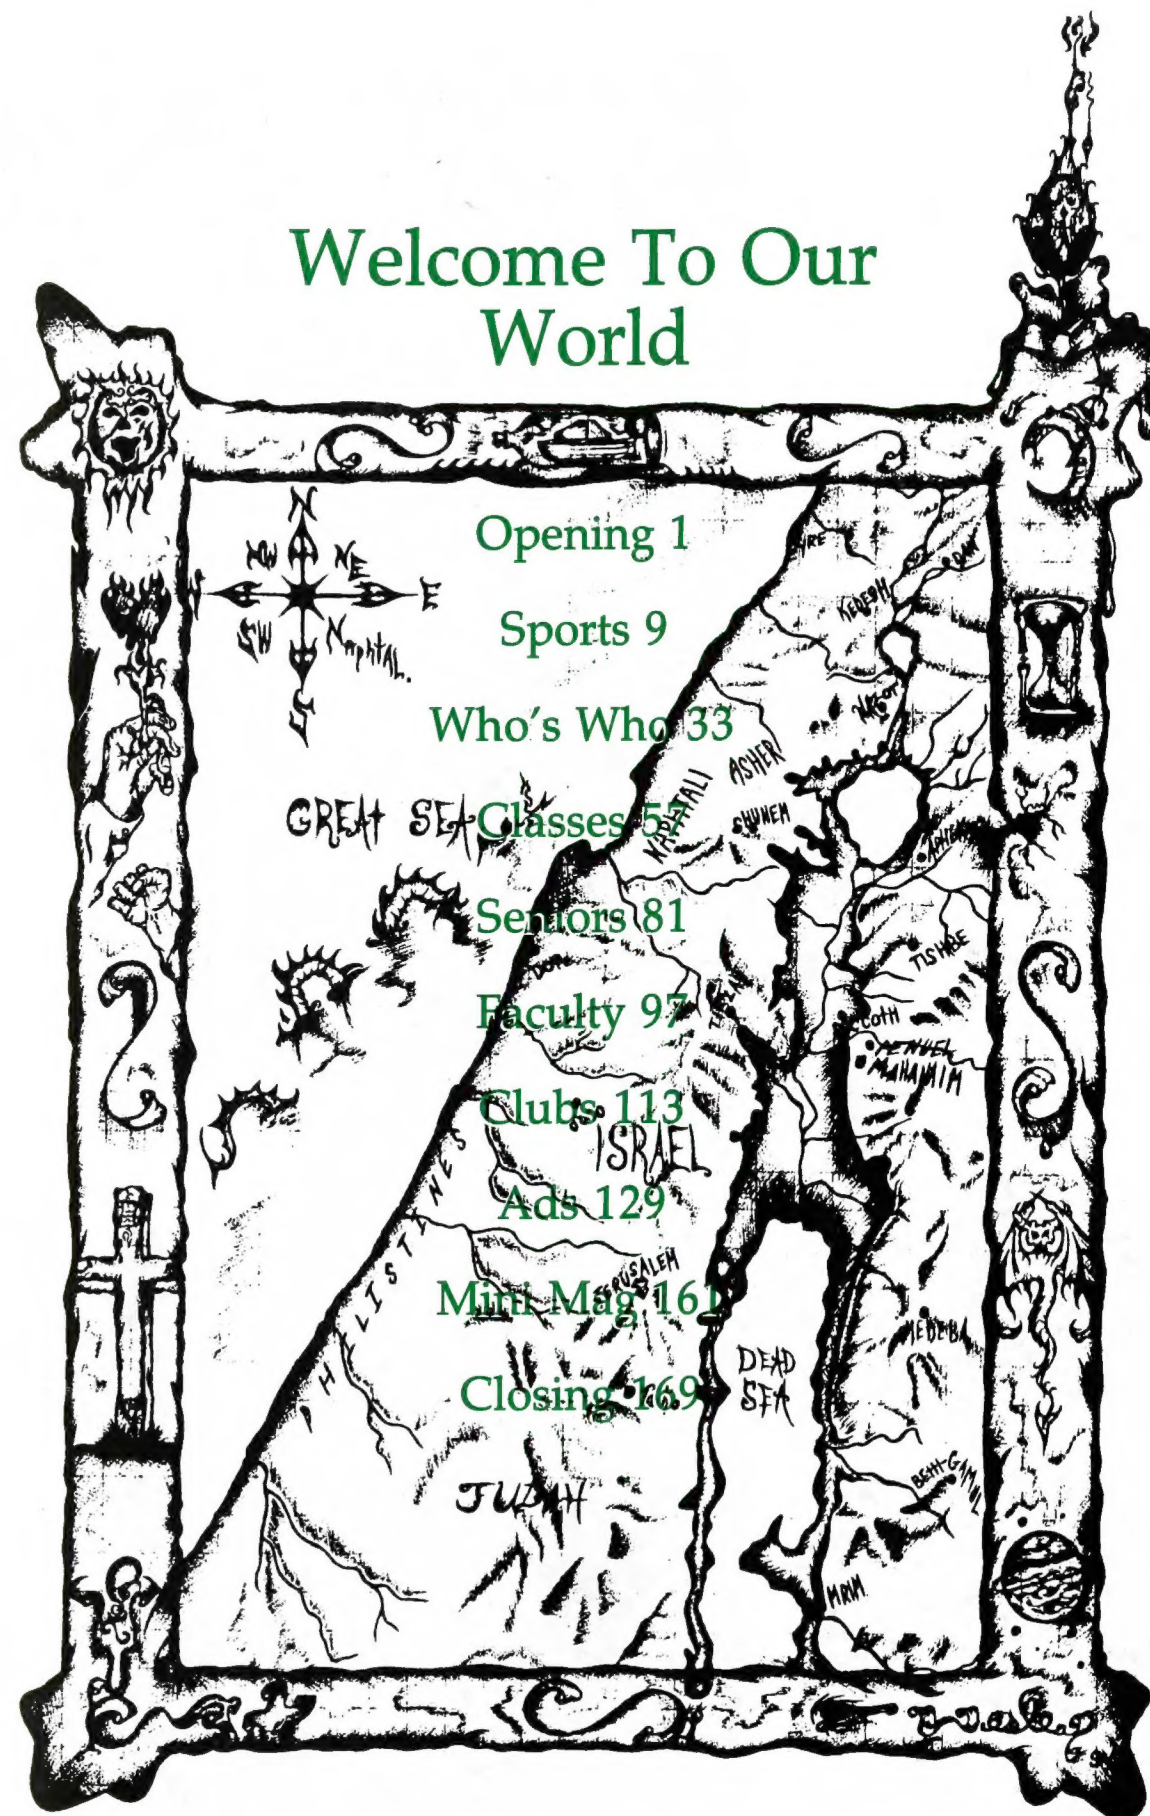

A Theme That Makes A Difference

In a society where everyone is struggling to be recognized, it is hard for someone to say that he makes a difference. That is why the theme, "You Make a World of Difference," holds a world of meaning for Vancleave students and the community. Just by being ourselves, meeting our goals, and turning our dreams into reality, Vancleave is gaining momentum in the struggle to be recognized. Our dreams of having a winning football team or a superior band have become a reality. Our dreams of a championship softball, baseball, or basketball team are goals that can one day be met. Our cheerleaders turned their dreams into reality when they received superiors at camp where they also earned an invitation to the Citrus Bowl. Vancleave's goal to be recognized academically has become not only a goal, but an accomplishment. Vancleave students are ranked highly in the state, thanks to the outstanding scores on tests like the ACT and SAT. Vancleave students have also become recognized socially as a uniquely close-knit group of people. Many friendships and relationships that start here will last a lifetime and beyond. As long as Vancleave students and faculty continue to take pride in their school and community, no obstacles will stand in the way, and Vancleave will continue to make "a World of Difference."

Welcome To Our World

Roaming Around the World

Mrs. Stietenroth, Beth Simpson, and Josh Ridgell, (far right) visit the Louvre Museum in Paris, France. This group of coastal high school students travelled to Normandy this summer where they were hosted by families in Carentan and St. Mere Eglise. Excursions included a visit to Omaha Beach, the Memorial Museum (the world's largest World War II museum), the American Cemetery, and Mont St. Michel.

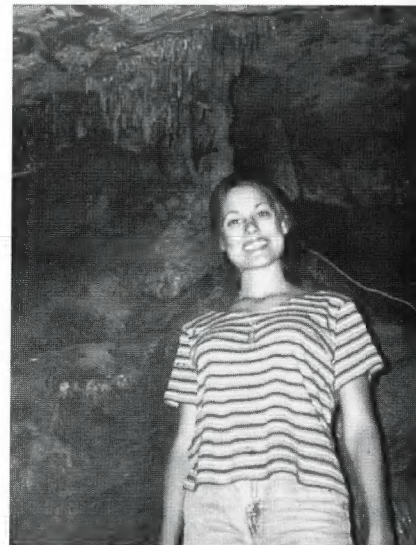

Tammy Leverette attends her sister's wedding in State Line, MS this summer. Tammy loves the Rolls Royce waiting to transport the newlyweds. (Tammy never did say whether or not she caught the bride's bouquet.)

Daphne Pierce explores caves in Tennessee during her summer vacation. She stayed in a log cabin in the mountains, and also went rafting.

Ashley Bass enjoys the warmth and beauty while vacationing in Puerto Rico in October '94.

The band members grew very close on their trip to Atlanta this summer.

At MGM Studios in Disneyworld, Lindsay Mallette has always been a little on the "Goofy" side.

Jennifer Moore, Jamikka Payton, and Vanessa Buxton practice their cheerleading abilities over the summer.

Jennifer Tanner, Suzanne King, and Valerie Besse spend time with a close friend in New Orleans.

Raina Rushing, Jamie Inabinette, Kristi Hipp, and Maxcie Sikora attend Girls State at USM for a week during the summer.

John Ritter climbs a ditch in Dachau during a summer tour of Europe with a school group.

"In Europe I visited Germany, Austria, Switzerland and the Czech Republic. While I was in Germany I went to Dacau. Among all of the places that I will remember in Europe, I will remember Dacau the most."

Valerie Besse makes time to relax with friends after a busy day during her mission trip to Satillo, Mexico.

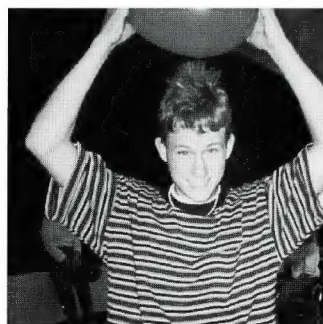

Terrie Noble, Jamie Allday, Donya Alford, Robyn Davis, Michael Henry, Con Wyatt, Andrea Bardwell, and Beth Simpson spend four days in Panama City along with other friends.

The Making of a School Year

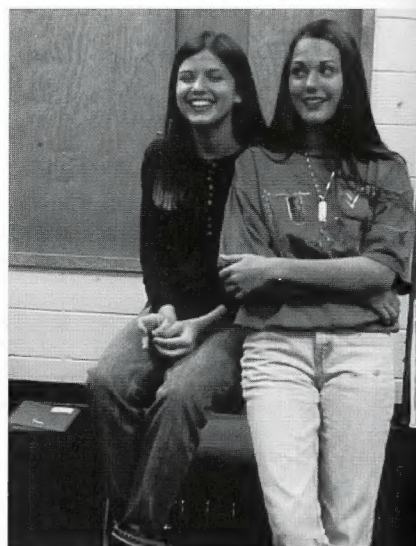

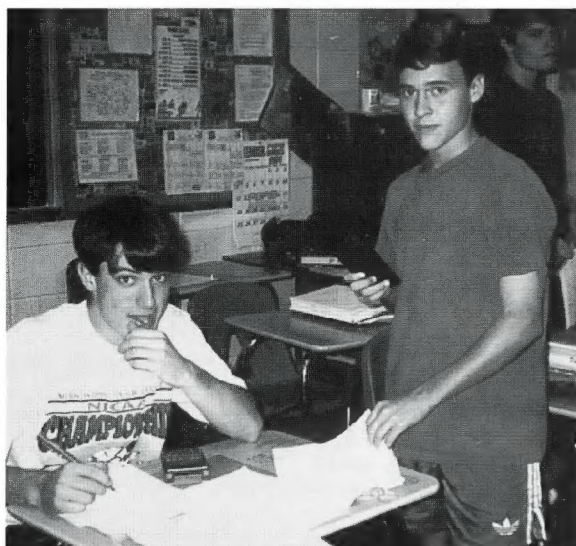

Rea Helmuth takes advantage of the beautiful autumn weather to catch up on her homework.

Nic Towner (below) has a very "hair-raising" experience while he is in drama class.

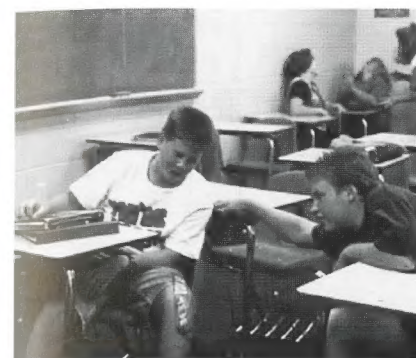

Trey Turner assists Ladd Flurry with algebra.

Daphne Pierce apparently doesn't think the joke is as funny as Sheree King does.

James David and Michael Herring prefer Coke, but this year it's a Pepsi World campus.

The Pepsi gang enjoys the break area, which is in a different place this year.

Kenny Pylate, Brian Self, and Jason Brooks are caught playing around in class.

Caroline Seal knows the answer, and she's making sure that Ericia Fairley doesn't answer first.

Robyn Davis helps Raina Rushing support the weight of all of her homework.

Artis Burney finds visiting the library a "trip."

Jonathan Smith shows Bulldog Spirit!

This middle school class enjoys socializing, but they must wait until they have finished doing their schoolwork.

Tracy Stuckey and Glenn Emerson work diligently in Mrs. Brower's class.

Katie Clabaugh looks forward to all the different activities that she will be involved in during her senior year. She says that this year should be a lot of fun, but also a lot of work as she makes plans for a new world of activities after graduation.

A Different Sport

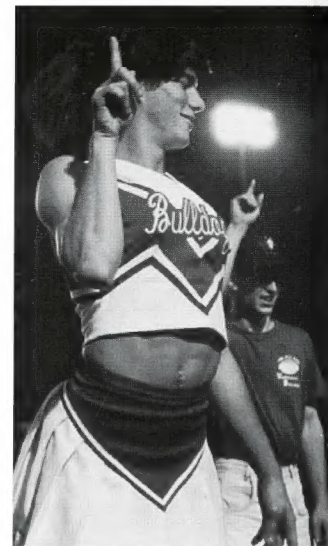

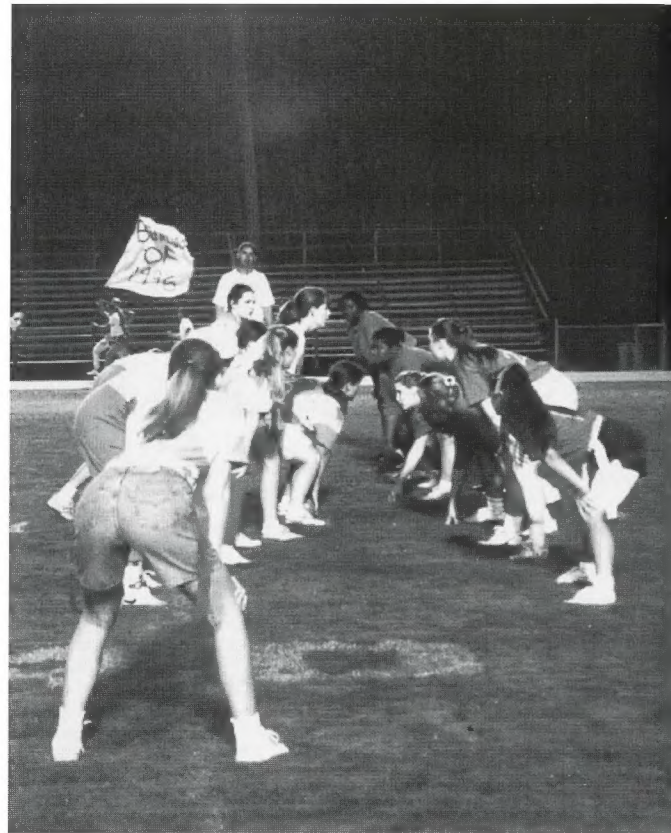

The first annual Junior-Senior Powderpuff Football Game was played on October 24. The junior girls had an overwhelming win over the seniors 34-6. The proceeds from the event will go towards the Junior-Senior Prom. Hopefully, this event will carry on for generations to come.

The juniors and seniors line up prepared for battle.

The Senior girls make a daring attempt to score.

Chad Dees demonstrates that the Juniors are #1.

The Senior guys seem to be having a little too much fun being cheerleaders.

The Sophomore Class is composed of a diverse group of teenagers, with different ideas and tastes. Many participate and excel in sports such as basketball, football, and cheerleading. Other students enjoy being in numerous clubs, including FCSS and Teen Connection. No matter the interest, they always come together to create an outstanding float at Homecoming and display a tremendous amount of spirit at the pep-rallies. These activities and the combination of friendships, fun, and persistent hard work will surely mold the Class of 1997 into a prosperous one.

When asked the question, "What makes the Class of 1996 different from the rest," I would have to reply with no hesitation that the Junior Class is a very diverse group of individuals who have a lot of great dreams and aspirations for their future. And even though everyone in the Class of 1996 is very different from each other, my classmates still know how to work together to help each other accomplish his own personal dreams and aspirations in life. I consider myself very fortunate to be a part of such a fine group of individuals.

It's A Senior's World

Jamikka Payton checks to see if worrying about graduation is causing her to get gray hair. Johnse LeBatard, Amanda Howard, and Patrick Dees set high hopes for the future.

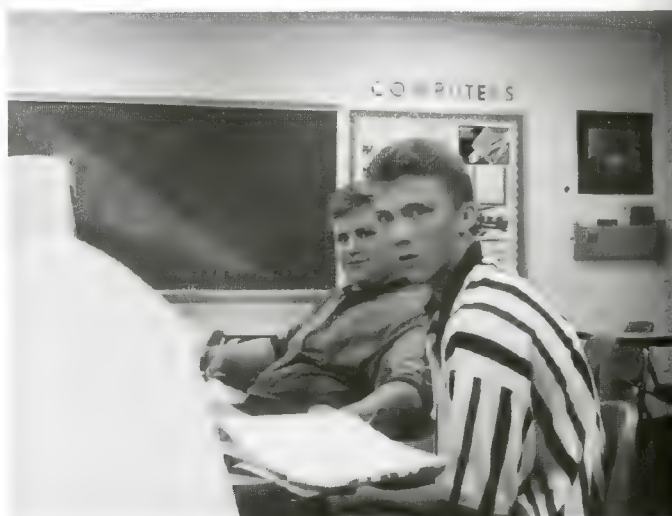

Mrs. Fletcher's accelerated English class decelerates for a moment of fun. Katie Clabaugh and Donne Ryals wait for their friends to arrive at the pep rally. Sonia Towner, Deania Miller, Matthew Lott, Jonathan Bray, Alisa Owen, and Michael Henry turn in the orders for their Senior Graduation invitations to Mrs. Nancy Bawcum.

Seniors take a moment to cool off and settle down after winning the Spirit Stick at a pep rally. J.D. Balzli, Iris McMillan, Amanda Monk, Amanda Day, and Katie Clabaugh receive their tassels and Senior key chains.

(Center) This 6-point was killed by Danny Stringer, Con Wyatt, Jennifer Jennings, and Patrick Dees. Herb Krantz and Mike Davies can use their computer experience in college.

(Center) The Seniors hang together during break. One of the Sr. privileges is being dismissed to go to break five minutes early. The leak in Mrs. Fletcher's ceiling has Mark McFerrin wearing a rain bonnet, of sorts.

Melissa Ely and Lesley Busby think that Amanda is the cat's meow. J.D. Balzli and Jason French clean the tennis courts before they play. It's a tough job, but somebody has to do it.

The Dawgs dress in jerseys on pep rally days.

The Makings of a Pep Rally

Since each class took getting the Spirit Stick so seriously this year, the Seniors had to come up with something different! They got together at J.D. Balzli's house to make tie-dyed blue and white t-shirts to wear on pep rally days. At each pep rally the classes took turns performing a cheer. The Seniors perform Firecracker, Fircracker, Firecracker, . . .

MOTTO

Life is short, we cannot afford to dally with remorse,
We must take the reins of life and ride on with reckless

We will not wonder about the past nor worry about the morrow,
But take charge of our fate and live through its joy and sorrow.

President — Raina Rushing
Vice-President — J.D. Balzli
Secretary/Treasurer — Janey Holifield

Only yesterday we were kids making friendships on the playground. Now we are graduating and taking a lifetime worth of memories with us. We shall never forget our days at Vancleave, the people who touched our lives and all the joyful times we shared. May we always remember these with a genuine, if not sad, smile.

Raina Rushing

Days, months, and years have come and gone. Now we find ourselves looking back over our memories of each other. To me, these memories have a value almost more than life itself. Words could not nearly describe the emotion I have for everyone who is a part of my life. Within me is a part of all that I have met.

To my fellow Seniors and underclassmen, I wish you the best in your lives. Always remember and cherish who you are, where you come from. Continue your present growth, knowledge, and success. Most importantly, enjoy life!

J.D. Balzli

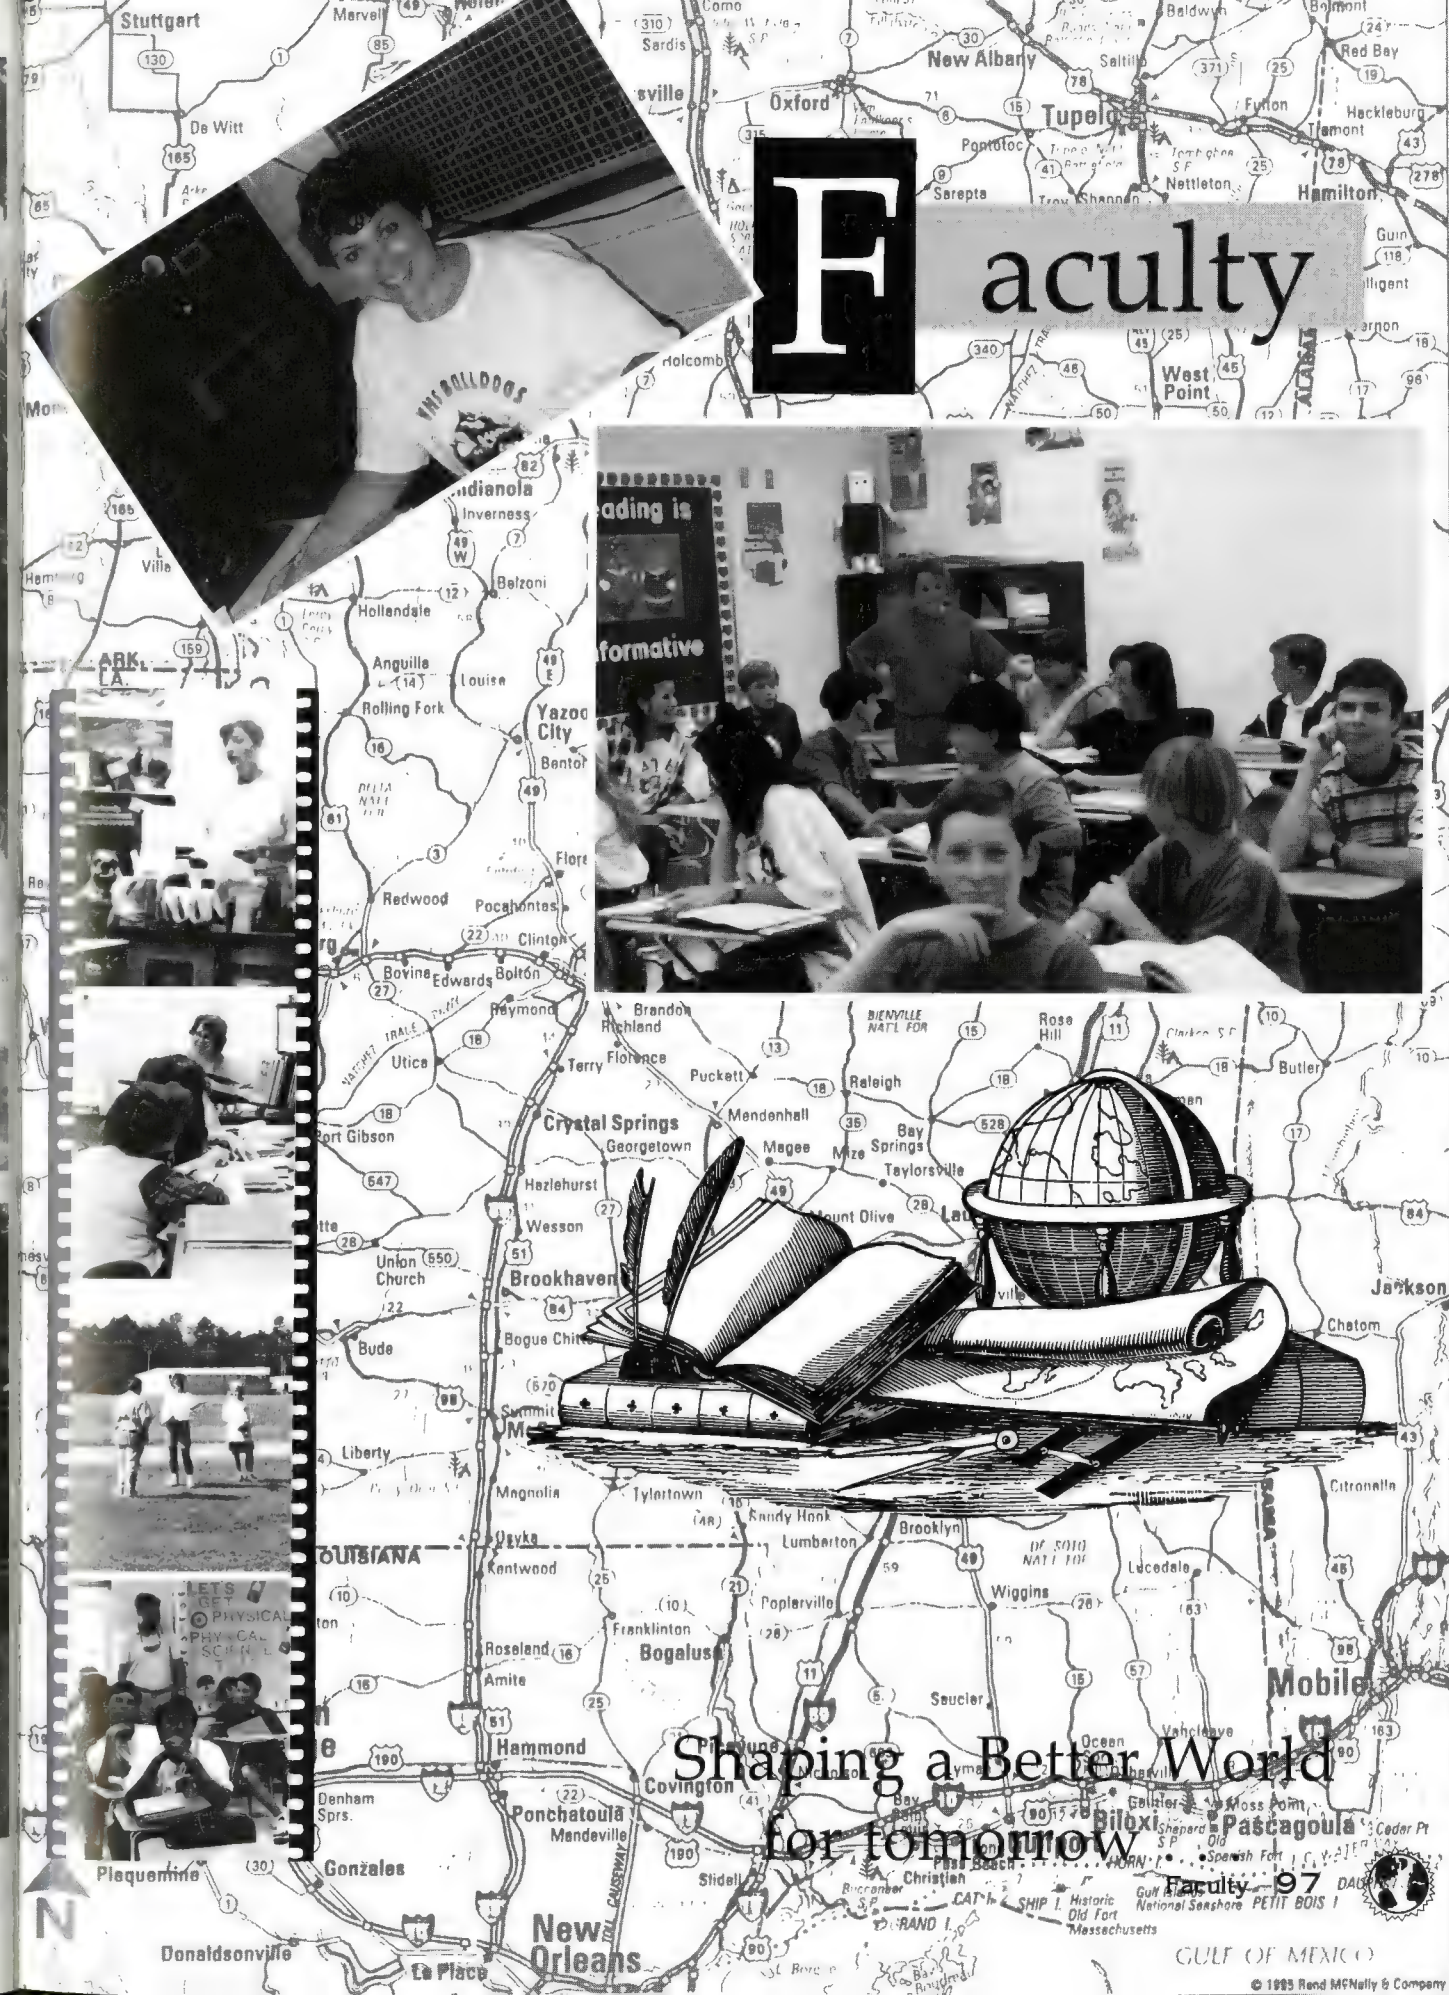

My Fellow Peers and Underclassmen,

I have only a small piece of advice for you. Enjoy your high school years and make the best of them. Get involved in school activities and school functions. If you want to play sports or be in a play, then do it, because you'll never have the opportunity again. Take many pictures and make lots of memories. They will mean so much to you in the future. Hold on to your friends as closely as possible and always be true to your friends, family, teachers, and yourself. Always remember to SMILE!

Janey Holifield

Looking back, I realize how successful the class of 1995 has been and how much fun we have had in the process. Because of our hard work, determination, and loyalty to one another, we have made life at Vancleave what we desired it to be. I urge you, the generations that follow, to do the same with much enthusiasm and initiative. The key to achieving this goal is support, love, and understanding. Endure the hard times and cherish the good; only then will life be as sweet as it has been for us so far.

The teachers kick it up at a pep rally.

Coach Nelson discovers that the team can play football but they can't cut hair very well.

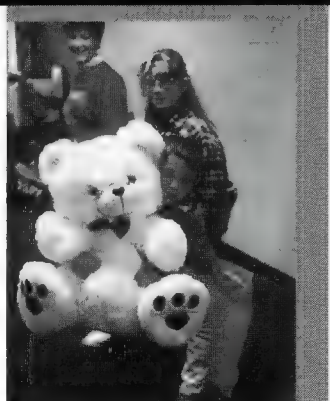

Mad Dog looks like a Class of '69 reject on Nerd Day.

Could this be Mrs. Brower's, Ms. Wright's, and Mrs. Havis's true colors showing through on Nerd Day?

Mrs. Ford emphasizes a point in her English class.

Teachers make a difference, too!

Vancleave teachers make a difference, too. They work long hours and spend much of their time at home grading papers, yet they find enough energy and time to participate in school activities and basically just "chill out."

Mrs. Freeman really enjoys being with her students.

Mrs. Joyce King, Mrs. Nina Arender, Mrs. Sandra Fletcher, and Mrs. Anne Stietenroth got a "pat on the back" for making a difference. They were nominated to Who's Who Among American Educators.

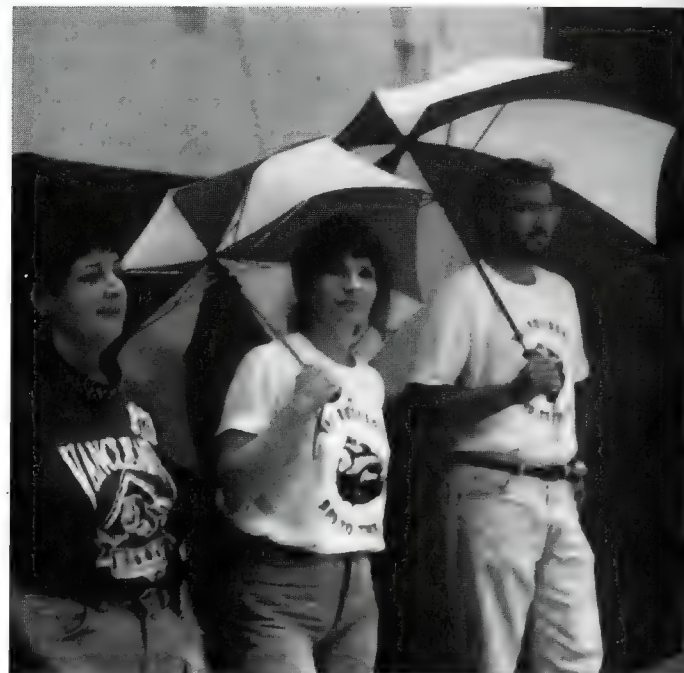

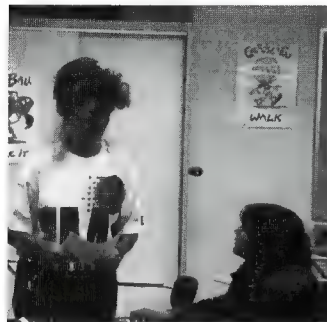

Mr. Breland, Mrs. Adams, and Mrs. Forsmen (below) show their stuff at the Computer Club Christmas program.

Mrs. Ruffin runs the concession stand at break.

Mrs. Jones takes time to give her students a little individual attention. Mrs. Ford keeps her students entertained with a new "proverb" each day.

Mrs. King, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Madden, Mrs. Brower, and Mrs. Helmuth bring Elvis to VHS at the Computer Club Christmas program. Mrs. Hudson guards the hall against tardy little students.

Coach McMillan does not cut any slack when it comes to doing your homework.

Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. King, and Mr. Bawcum show their support for their classes and team at a pep rally.

"Tweety Bird" Havis, "Roadrunner" Wright, and "Big Bird" Martin help out DECA in the "Feather Your Favorite Teacher" fund raiser.

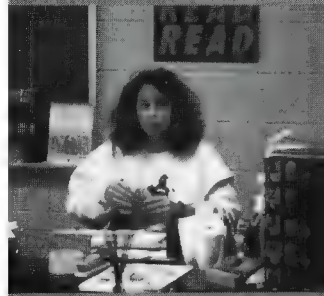

Can you guess what Coach Brown has brewing in his science lab?

Coach Hubal takes a break from his administrative duties to help clean up after the Valentine dance. Substitute teacher, Mrs. Jones, takes a little time to "clown around."

Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Osley, and Mrs. Davis believe that there is nothing better than a true friend. Looks like Coach Gattis forgot to drink his V8 this morning.

Junior High Faculty

Coach Stewart can't keep the students off his back.

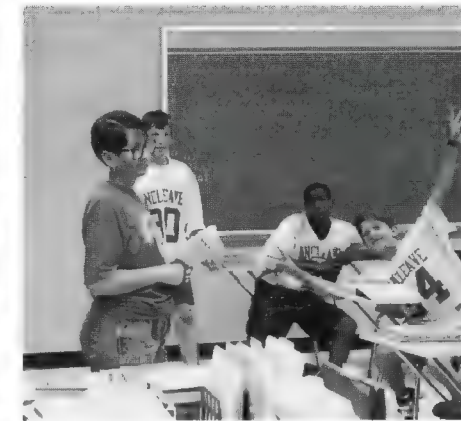

What can he say, Mr. Seitz is just too cool.

Mrs. Wise keeps her students busy.

Mrs. Osley shares a book with her class.

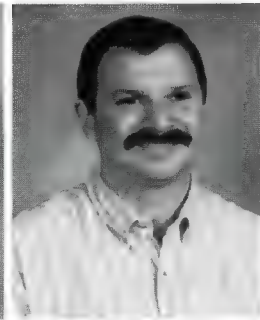

The recent addition to the Middle School, the new sixth grade wing and library, is a sign of Vancleave's continuous growth.

Handling The Environment Carefully Is Second Nature To Us.

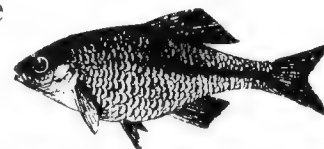

Moss Point Mill employee Everett "Slim" Jones and his granddaughter Jennifer.

The Moss Point Mill employs 1,000 people who share many things in common: good jobs, a commitment to making the community better, a safe workplace, and a concern for the natural world around us. Our people are the lifeblood of a company that has a long and strong record of meeting, and exceeding, the requirements that keep industry in compliance.

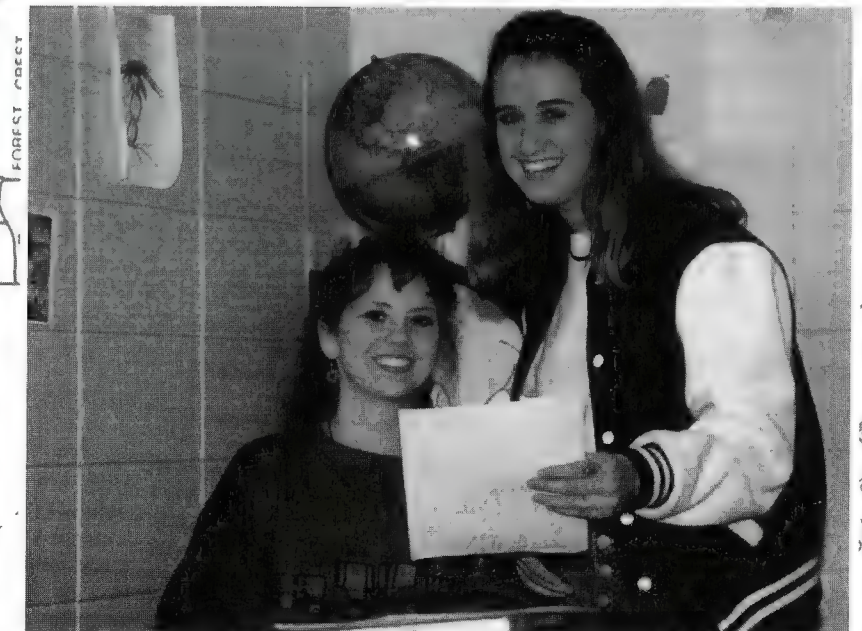

The Mississippi Gulf Coast abounds with places to fish, swim and picnic. Outdoor activities are as much a part of family life here as eating and going to church. So, to the men and women at the Moss Point Mill, caring for the environment is an important part of a good day's work.

At International Paper, this is the way we go about our business. Because taking care of our own backyard is important to every one of us.

A Knight To Remember

Prom '94 was an amazing celebration! It began in 1991 with a doughnut sale. Fundraisers continued with late nights making po-boys, burned fingers hot-gluing Mardi Gras pins, problems filling orders for boxer shorts, and a long stressful night working at Montana's Restaurant. Materials were donated by St. Paul United Methodist Church, Kimmerly's Nursery, Gamblin's Wholesale, etc. Many parents helped prepare food, decorate, and chaperone. By May 14, 1994, the prom committee and the Class of '95 were ready. The sight of an enormous castle, a shimmering moat, a courtyard, banquet tables of food, and servers in authentic costumes was absolutely awesome! Everyone received a memory book and the seniors took home a champagne glass as a token from the Juniors. It was truly A Knight to Remember!

A World of Student Events

In the past five years, Vancleave High School has taken an active role in one of the SEACELLS most educational and enriching programs, an exchange of students and teachers between a school in France and schools on the MS Gulf Coast. Twenty students aged 13 to 16 come from Carentan, in the province of Normandy, France, to stay two weeks with families from Bay St. Louis to Vancleave. This year from February 18th to March 4th, Vancleave hosted four French girls from Carentan. They toured the Coast and attended classes at VHS with their host students.

She's Got the Whole World In Her Hands

In her 21 years of teaching, with 15 years as sponsor of the VHS Annual Staff, Mrs. Anne Stietenroth has been bestowed with many awards and honors. She was honored as Vancleave High School's STAR teacher in 1984 and 1993. She was listed in the 1990 and 1994 Who's Who Among American High School Teachers. During her 15 years as the annual staff advisor, her editors have won Yearbook Workshop Awards from 1981 to 1988 and also from 1990 to this year. Her yearbook staffs have also been awarded Mississippi Scholastic Press Association Merit Awards for the yearbook regarding theme, cover, photos, and advertising design from 1986 to the present. In 1993, she was selected as the Mississippi Scholastic Press Association's Yearbook Advisor of the Year.

Mrs. Stietenroth is truly an extraordinary woman. Every year she carries the yearbook and the world on her shoulders. Year after year, she has taken the yearbook to levels of quality unmatched by her colleagues. Mrs. Stietenroth "Makes A World Of Difference," and she will be sadly missed as the yearbook advisor.

After seeing this picture, Mrs. Stietenroth remarked, "This photograph reminds me of one of my old favorite songs, 'Make the World Go Away, Get it off of my shoulders.'"

Mr. Pursley enjoys spending time with his students and always takes an interest in their activities.

Making A World of Difference

What an unforgettable year! Who could have believed twelve years ago that we had begun a journey that would take us to this point in time? We have seen many friends come and go, new administration and teachers, and we have watched how our once quiet, rural town has become a thriving, bustling community. The annual staff has worked hard to reflect these changes in the 1995 Time 'n' Tide.

As always, the annual staff has had a great year. We have brought the annual to you by working the home games in the football concession stand, sponsoring the beauty pageant, "kissing" a Senior Goodbye, selling fruit, and giving the community a chance to put something back into their annual by buying an advertisement.

All of this could not be possible without the professional guidance and encouragement of Mrs. Anne Stietenroth. She is truly a remarkable woman to balance the producing of an annual with her job of teaching. Right along beside her is Maxcie Sikora, who took on the great responsibility of being this year's editor. Her input has been immeasurable and it has been a pleasure working alongside her. Mrs. Coy Ann Mallett's absence has truly been felt, but the staff parents have pulled the extra weight.

To those of you who purchased an annual we say "Thanks!" for the support. We hope that as you continue on the journey, you will Make a World of Difference.

Sitting on Top of the World

What an interesting year this has been! In the twelve years I have been in Vancleave schools, I have experienced and watched the small, quaint community of Vancleave develop an ever-changing atmosphere. We have tried hard to consolidate a lifetime of memories into the 1995 yearbook.

In order to make this year a success, the annual staff had to accomplish several lines of work: selling ads, fundraisers, and working in the concession stand at home football games.

The success of this annual would not be possible without the hard work and guidance of Mrs. Stietenroth. She is truly an inspiration to us all by continuously motivating us and sacrificing much of her own time. I also truly appreciate all of the annual staff parents, Mrs. Coy Ann Mallett, Mrs. Joyce King, and especially my parents for their time and contributions.

This being my second year on the VHS annual staff, I was fortunate to serve as Business Manager as well as Mini-Mag Section Editor. I hope that you will find that we have captured some of the highlights of your year, and always remember that You Make a World of Difference.

Capturing the world

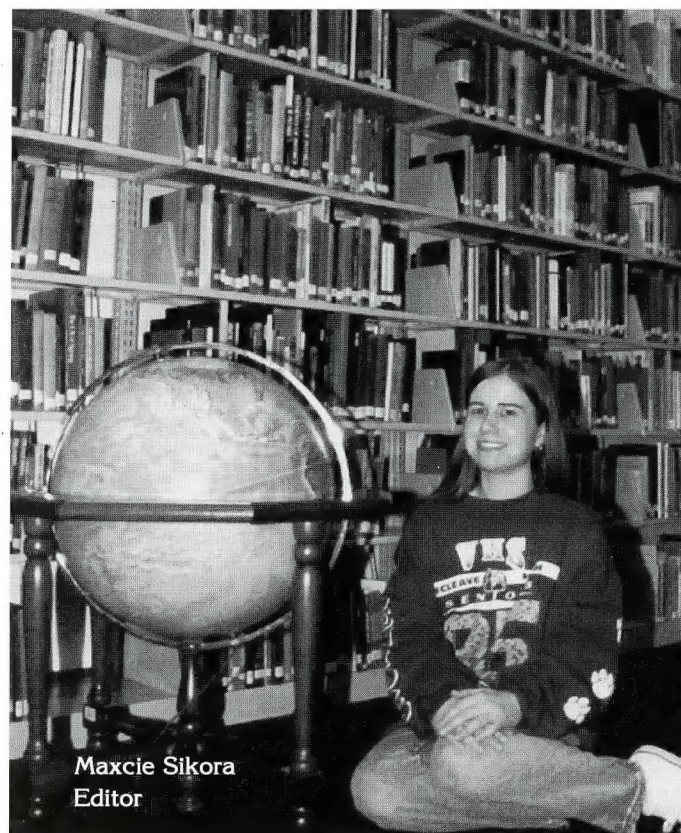

They say that "a picture is worth a thousand words." If this is true, then this yearbook is worth several billion, because preserved on these pages are the snapshots and memories of the 1994-95 school year. And you, the student body, play an important role in the publication of this book. We take the pictures and put them on the pages with captions next to them, but you make the memories to go with the pictures, and that is what makes them valuable. Without the memories, a photo is nothing more than an image on the page.

I hope you enjoy flipping through the pages of memories as much as I have enjoyed helping to bring them to you. I sincerely hope that we have captured your fondest memories because this book is proof of how "You Make a World of Difference."

Colophon

The cover design and theme tie into the title of the yearbook with the stars, planets, and sun relating to time; and the sea with the dolphins relating to the tides. The total graphic picture relates to the MS Gulf Coast, to which Vancleave belongs.

The design of the world in the universe includes the school colors of blue and white. The world is used as logo throughout the book, including the folio #sf26, which is a globe.

The 1995 Time 'n' Tide was published by Taylor Publishing company of Dallas.

The four-color lithocote cover is gold hot foil stamped.

The grey felt endsheets include a silver hot foil stamp.

In addition to the 176 pages, there is a four-color insert of 4 pages and an autograph section. There are 16 pages which include Kelly Green Spot Color #21, and 32 pages are printed in four-color. The page size is 7 3/4 X 10 1/2 on enamel 100 paper.

The typeface for the headlines is Malibu and for the body copy, Korinna.

The cost of publishing the 400 copies ordered was approximately $22,000.

It's the End of the World As We Know It

The 1994-1995 school year has been an incredible year for the annual staff. We started our year with annual staff camp this summer at USM. The staff worked diligently on a cover design that is completely different than ever before and a theme we believe makes a positive statement about our fellow classmates. We also spent many hours this summer selling ads. This year we have acquired many new staff members who have greatly contributed their efforts to the overall personality of this annual. They have all worked very hard at the concession stands, the Who's Who Dance, the Beauty and Beau Pageant, the fruit sale, and many other things. I am very thankful to the old and new staffers for their hard work and dedication. By working so closely together, I have learned so many valuable things from each one of them, and I have also never laughed as much in my life.

The staff are not the only ones who made the annual possible. Mrs. Stietenroth, as always, has been our fearless leader. She is a wonderful woman whom I truly admire. Her dedication to this annual is amazing. She took me under her wing my 9th grade year on staff and has helped and encouraged me in any way she can ever since. She has made the difference for the past 15 years by providing a wonderful treasure of memories for Vancleave High School.

I would like to thank Mrs. King for the wonderful help she has given us with artwork and the decorations for the Beauty and Beau Pageant. I would like to give a special thanks to Mrs. Coy Ann Mallett for her help whenever she could possibly make it. She is a wonderful lady who is always supportive of the staff. The annual staff parents have been excellent this year in assisting us with fundraisers. I would like to extend a special thanks to my mother for all of her help, also to Jay and Stella Henley for their continuous support of the annual, and last, but not least, to my best friend Hollie who has given me creative ideas and lots of encouragement. My very special thanks goes out to all of the students who purchased this yearbook. I hope we have provided you with a book full of memories to be treasured always.

As this is my final year at Vancleave High school, I would like to leave a parting word of encouragement. Our world is changing every day. We are faced with concerns such as increased violence, poverty, and the destruction of the environment. As the next generation, we students have to take the initiative to change the world for the better. Each and every one of us, no matter how great or small, can Make A World of Difference.
